Published in Winding Tree · 1 min read · Dec 10, 2018

For this last week, we have been working hard at improving the readability and usability of the whole data structure. We are doing this by following simple and powerful guidelines by not putting data into our object keys. This will affect almost all of our repositories and we are expecting to test everything in the next week. Soon after this, we will do another environment reset, we will let you know via our mailing list.

In addition, we have had added some slight improvements to our Hotel Explorer. We have exposed the sorting criteria that are being used in the We've also completed technical evaluation of the Winding Tree #HackTravel hackathon projects — see review of all 12 hacks here.

Thank you for your continued support and patience! If you have any questions, join our Telegram, any technical discussion should go to our Google Group. If you want to contribute, a good place to start is our GitHub.
