June was hot. Lots of work and news. High time to start sharing minutes with our community. It will keep us all aligned and updated. Let's go!

ETHPrague

EthPrague was a great event for developers. There are a few things one can watch endlessly: how hackers hack, how hackers drink beer, and how hackers hack. I had a chance to experience it and to be honest, it looks inspiring.

The team of developers arrived in Prague to meet, discuss, code, and have some good beers. All the points of the agenda were covered successfully.

Dapp for Barcelona and Paris

The launch on win.barcelona and win.paris was tough. But with several changes and shifts in deadlines, we finally made it. In total 10 accommodation providers were onboarded. Vincent, the head for partnerships, charmed them to innovate in Web 3.0 and sell rooms for xDai in July — the high season. Great job!

Unfortunately, the interest from the ETH community was not as big as it was in Amsterdam. As a result, we have only one booking for Barcelona. Sad but true. The situation leaves us with questions we will address to the community at ETHBarcelona in order to improve the service.

Win.paris has its first booking and we expect more to come. The list of Hosts is below:

- Staycity, La Défense: 19–22 July with a Studio for €120 [available for booking till the 4th of July]
- Hyatt Paris Madeleine available 19–22 July Hyatt Queen: 560€ [available for booking till the 5th of July]
- Hoy Paris available 18–22 July 240€ per [available for booking till the 9th of July]
-  Hôtel Plaza Athénée Paris available 19–22 July €900 Superior Room (single and double) [available for booking till the 5th of July]

Travel is recovering after the last two years of you know what. The crowds are getting back both to Barcelona and Paris. FYI 75% of hotels in Paris are booked for the date of EthCC. So why not book with win.paris?

Explorins WIN

Explorins partnership is another amazing story to tell. At the beginning of June Max (our founder and CEO) took part in a conference in Köln. As usually, he brought a lot of useful contacts, among them were the beautiful creators from Barcelona.

This start-up works with art, culture, cities, and AR. To cut a long story short, we built an amazing experience for ETHBarcelona attendees. They will have a chance to explore Barcelona, learn about WIN STAYS, and get a unique POAP token made by local artist Panot. Another good reason to attend ETHBarcelona.

👁️ Behind the curtain

There were numerous things we've been working on in June and by the end of the month, the pressure on the team was going through the roof. Was it the result or just a coincidence of the tension, I don't really know. But the two members of the core team decided to leave the project.

So now we are restructuring the workflow and teams to continue building and delivering both the Dapp and the protocol (Videre).

TM Branding of WIN STAYS

The cherry on top of the cake is the presence of key visuals for Win Stays based on the story of the brand. Finally, the values, features, messages, and other details of the puzzle are summed up. At the moment everything is being worked on. I am really excited to see and share the results with you soon!

And that's a wrap. If you have anything to share ping me on Discord or Twitter.
