Fun fact: Berlin is one of the major European hubs of Web3 and Blockchain companies and there are weekly events in the city related to this up-and-coming industry.

Hey, frens!

This week, the WIN team has picked out some of our favourite hotels in Berlin — a historically rich and forward-facing city.

In between the bustling city centres (there are multiple!) and the interweaving parks are our suggestions for where you should stay the next time you're in the city.

In this article, you'll find 📍

A Stay With Everything You Need

The Hotel Luc, Autograph Collection by the Marriott is one of those hotels that just have character. As a fairly new hotel, Hotel Luc impresses and delights guests with its Prussian-inspired hospitality and similarly inspired decor.

 Situated a 3-minute walk from U Stadtmitte (Subway Station), a 9-minute walk from S+U Friedrichstrasse (Train Station) or a 40-minute taxi from the airport, Hotel Luc is not only accessible from anywhere in the city but is situated within an arm's reach of cultural and historical sites.

 Around €250 per night (~ USD 257.77)

A Hotel of Opulent Opportunity

Next on our list is our luxury pick, the Hotel Adlon Kempinski. As a legendary hotel inches away from the Brandenburg Gate, travellers will be pressed to decide whether to stay inside the hotel's magnificent lobbies and Michelin-starred restaurants or explore the surrounding area filled with life and culture.

📍 As one of the oldest hotels in Berlin (since 1907), much of the city has developed around it — a 1-minute walk from Brandenburger Tor Station (Subway), plentiful bus services, and a 45-minute taxi ride from BER Airport.

💶🇺🇸 Around €450 per night (~ USD 463)
