Hello, everyone! We're excited to share the progress we've made in January as we continue to develop our MVP (Minimum Viable Product). Our goal is to make our platform user-friendly and efficient for both suppliers and users. Let's dive into the highlights of our achievements this month:

1. Airplane Management Made Easy

We implemented an Airplane Management API, essentially a tool that helps us handle airplane data efficiently. This behind-the-scenes work ensures smooth operations and data handling for the airplanes in our system.

2. Suppliers Dapp Upgrades

- User and Admin Account Management: We introduced features to create and manage both user and admin accounts, making sure access to our platform is secure and personalized.
- Entity Registration and Management: We developed capabilities for entities (like suppliers) to register and manage their profiles and data.

This helps everything run more smoothly in our ecosystem.

3. User-Friendly Interface for Airplane Management

We rolled out a simple and easy-to-use interface for managing airplane data. Now, users can interact with the system effortlessly, thanks to the improvements in the airplane management API.

4. Offers Generation for User Convenience

We utilized the Airplane database to generate offers. Users can now explore various options based on the available airplane data, making their experience more valuable.

5. Protocol Client Dapp Enhancements

- Tours and Offers Review: Users can now review tours and offers, making it easier for them to decide on potential bookings.
- Airplane Search and Offers Review: We developed search functionalities, allowing users to find airplanes and review offers efficiently.
- Booking Features: Users can now book offers directly through the platform. Additionally, they can review their bookings and cancel them if necessary.

6. API Fixes for Improved Performance

We addressed and resolved multiple issues within the API, enhancing stability, performance, and security.

Our January efforts have laid a solid foundation for the MVP's development, setting the stage for future enhancements and expansions. We're dedicated to improving and expanding our platform, ensuring it meets the needs of our users and suppliers effectively. Stay tuned for more exciting updates!
